DETAILED ACTION

Receipt of applicants' remarks submitted March 14, 2003 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections 35 U.S.C. 103

- 1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 2. Claims 1, 5-7 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chevreux (U.S. 4,717,739) for reasons set forth in the prior office action.
- 3. Claims 1, 5-8, 10 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chen et al. (US WO 97/00664, of record) for reasons set forth in the prior office action.
- 4. Claims 1, 7-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mori et al. (JP 1213221, of record) in view of Yamamoto et al. (JP 3206024, of record) for reasons set forth in the prior office action.

Response to the Arguments

Applicants' remarks submitted March 14, 2003 have been fully considered, they are persuasive with respect to the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 102 over Chevreux, and over Zanoti-Russo. Particularly, the cited references do not teach expressly the particular amounts of some monomers herein. However, the remarks are not persuasive to overcome the rejections set forth above for reasons discussed below.

Application/Control Number: 09/382,708

Art Unit: 1617

Applicants argue that the claims are not obvious over the cited references because the examiner has not shown specifically why the teaching of cited references should be modified. The arguments are not probative. With respect to the Rejections over Chevreux, and over Zanoti-Russo, as stated in the prior office action, the modification is a matter of optimization result affecting parameters, which is obvious, and is within the skill of artisan. See, In re Boesch and Slaney (CCPA) 204 USPQ 215. As to the rejections over Mori and Yamamoto, the motivation for modification has been clearly stated in last office action: "… in order to benefit from its contribution to lipophilicity, softness, and hair washing properties as taught by Yamamoto."

Nothing unobvious is seen in the claimed invention.

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
